Subject: Trademark licence - regional expansion into Vietnam

Chloe,

We've found a local operator, EduViet Co Ltd, keen to run "BrightPath Learning" branded tuition centres in Ho Chi Minh City and Hanoi under licence. We want to retain full control over curriculum and branding standards while letting them handle local operations.

Can you draft a trademark licensing agreement? Key points: 5-year term, royalty of 6% of gross revenue, quality control/inspection rights for us, and a clause preventing them from operating a competing brand.

Kevin

Kevin,

Noted, will prepare a first draft this week. Before that - can you confirm your Vietnam trademark registration status? If "BrightPath Learning" isn't yet registered in Vietnam, we should file that in parallel, as licensing an unregistered mark there carries some risk.

Also, separate from this - your ops manager mentioned wanting a compliance checklist for the new PDPA obligations for the Singapore centres. I'll get one of the associates to prepare that as a short standalone note.
